

MEDIEVAL STUDIES INTERDISCIPLINARY PROGRAM

---

The minor in Medieval Studies is designed for students who want to learn more about the Middle Ages in all its multicultural splendor, without limiting themselves to a single academic discipline. This program encourages students to explore the medieval world through a variety of approaches through courses taught in our four core departments of History, Theology, English and Philosophy, plus course offerings in Classical Studies, Modern Languages and the various areas of Fine Arts.

Undergraduate Programs

- Medieval Studies Minor (<https://catalog.luc.edu/undergraduate/arts-sciences/medieval-studies/medieval-studies-minor/>)

Undergraduate Policies and Procedures

Please see Undergraduate Policies and Procedures (<https://catalog.luc.edu/academic-standards-regulations/undergraduate/>) for academic policies that supersede those of academic units within the University.

Medieval Studies (MSTU)

MSTU 300 Integrative Experience I (1.5 Credit Hours)

This course is the first in a two-semester sequence of courses designed to provide students with a synoptic view of the field of Medieval Studies and train them to do cross-disciplinary work within that field.

Interdisciplinary Option: Medieval Studies

This course satisfies the Engaged Learning requirement.

Outcomes:

Students will be able to produce original research on some topic pertaining to the Middle Ages that utilizes and integrates no less than two methodologies drawn from diverse disciplines

MSTU 301 Integrative Experience II (1.5 Credit Hours)

This course is the second in a two-semester sequence of courses designed to provide students with a synoptic view of the field of Medieval Studies and train them to do cross-disciplinary work within that field.

Interdisciplinary Option: Medieval Studies

This course satisfies the Engaged Learning requirement.

Outcomes:

Students will be able to produce original research on some topic pertaining to the Middle Ages that utilizes and integrates no less than two methodologies drawn from diverse disciplines